Holland Again Refuses To Surrender Ex-Kaiser

PROMISE TO KEEP HIM IN CLOSE GUARD

Will Take Measures to Prevent Him Disturbing World.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
The Hague, March 5.—The Dutch government today for the second time refused to deliver the former German emperor to the Allies for trial.

In a note addressed to David Lloyd George, the British premier however, the government promised to take all necessary measures to minimize the liberty of Wilhelm and prevent him from endangering the world's peace.

The second communication from the Dutch government, who was delivered in London this morning states that these precautions will be taken on the spot. While Doorn is not mentioned in the text of the note, it is understood that in conversations with the Allied diplomats here the Dutch authorities have assured them that close guarding and censorship will be instituted when Wilhelm occupied his estate at that place.

JUDGE SAYS HE HAS NOT GIVEN AS TO GUILTY

Warns Newberry Jurors Against Reading of the Trial.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Grand Rapids, Mich., March 5.—Newspaper reports of the decisions of Judge Clarence W. Sessions in the Newberry election conspiracy trial were the subject of judicial comment today.

Judge Sessions warned the jury, for the third time in the trial not to be influenced in any manner by anything that occurs out of court room, either by reading the newspapers or by hearing any comment.

"In these days," continued Judge Sessions, "twelve men should not be restrained from reading the newspapers but you should restrain yourselves from reading accounts of the trial."

"In one newspaper this court has been quoted as expressing an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendants. This court has expressed no opinion as to that. In deciding motions it became necessary to determine certain questions. But you men are the sole judges of guilt or innocence and I call your attention to this matter again because it is possible that some injustice unwittingly may have been done the government or defense."

The defense today also had in view testimony intended to impeach that offered by the government by Frank H. Withey, who said that Clifford Sibben, secretary to Paul King told him that "Newberry and his family were the sources of a barrel of money" for the 1918 campaign. Sibben denied this yesterday and further negative testimony was offered today.

"The sum set in the book is the minimum on which an employee can risk a matrimonial venture," declared C. R. McKay, vice governor of the bank, who added that the rule was "imperative."

INVASION OF POLAND IMMINENT ADVICES TO STATE DEPT. INDICATE

Reds Have Also Caused Terrible Epidemic of Typhus There.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, March 5.—Official advice to the state department say an invasion of Poland by the Bolsheviks is imminent, the house rules committee was told today by William R. Castel, Jr., in charge of the department's central European division. The committee is considering an appropriation for food relief in Poland, Austria and Armenia.

"The Poles have displayed a wonderful patriotism, but without aid they cannot hold out much longer," said Mr. Castel. "They have been on the verge of signing peace with the Bolsheviks several times."

Mr. Castel also declared that the Bolsheviks were causing a plague of typhus in Poland which threatened to become the greatest plague in history.

Austria Suffers Too
Austria as well as Poland is suffering horribly from the lack of food and fuel, he said.

Bishop J. B. Cannon of the Methodist Board of Foreign Missions, declared the board had set aside $500,000 to aid Poland, but that the relief work in Europe was "too big a job" for any private organization.

Committeemen questioned the advisability of the government extending a new loan of $50,000,000 to Europe in view of a deficit of three and one-half billions facing the treasury at the end of the current fiscal year.

JAPS DECIDE TO WITHDRAW FROM SIBERIA

First Troops to Move from There 20th This Month.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Honolulu, March 4.—The Japanese government has decided to abandon the Siberian expedition in line with the American policy according to a cable message from Tokyo received by Shinpo, a Japanese language newspaper here today.

The first detachment of Japanese troops will leave Vladivostok March 20 simultaneously with the departure of the last Czech-Slovak troops, the message said.

The Soviet government's peace offer to Japan, according to the cablegram asks recognition of Lenin's de facto government and resumption of full diplomatic relations, promising to end terrorism simultaneously with allied acquiescence with the offer and to recognize Japan's special rights in Siberia.

A cablegram from Tokyo January 20 said all Japanese troops in Siberia would be withdrawn "upon the accomplishment of the main purpose for which they were dispatched to Russia," according to a "fundamental Siberian policy" promulgated by the Japanese Imperial diplomatic council.

FEAR BOLSHEVISM.

Washington, March 5.—Deeply concerned over the rapid westward spread of Bolshevism, Japan is understood to desire the creation of a buffer state between it and Soviet Controlled Russia. It is believed here that the erection of such a state may be made one of the first considerations in any future relations between Japan and Russia.

Establishment of an autonomous Siberian state centered about Irkutsk has been contemplated recently by the Bolsheviks, according to official dispatches received here. Such a state, while following the political outlines of the present Russian government would still possess a sufficiently independent character to satisfy any Japanese desire for a buffer between Japan and Bolshevik controlled Russia.

SENATE DEMOCRATS APPEAL TO WILSON IN TREATY BATTLE

Ask President to Meet Them and Tell 'em What to Do.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, March 5.—Still hoping that the peace treaty may be saved from another deadlock, democratic senators sought today to lay directly before President Wilson the latest proposals discussed as a possible compromise basis on Article Ten.

While reconsideration of the republican reservations proceeded in the senate, Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, the administration leader is understood to have written the president asking that he see administration senators and given them his views as to whether he would accept the compromise proposals now under consideration.

These proposals are said to contemplate a change in the republican article ten reservation so that military force and other special agencies would be named as means which the United States would decline to use to preserve the integrity of other league members.

Under Way Several Days.

The move for a conference with the president is said to have grown out of negotiations which have been in progress for several days under the charge of Senator Simmons, democrat, North Carolina, for the democratic side and Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, for the republicans.

Senator Hitchcock is understood to have suggested in his letter that the president see Senator Simmons before the Article Ten reservation comes to another vote. The democrats do not care it was pointed out, to bring about a ratification which the president would disregard by pocketing the treaty.

In their negotiations Senators Watson and Simmons are understood to be working with the full confidence of the leaders of the two parties, though it has emphasized that the compromise discussed has been advanced only in tentative form and that no one has agreed to finally accept it.

A new reservation designed to prevent further extension of credit to foreign governments without congressional action with introduced today by Senator Knox, republican, Pennsylvania. It provides that the credit of the United States shall not be pledged until congress has affirmatively given authority.

River Rose Over a Foot in Single Day

The warm weather of the first of the week and Wednesday night's rain had considerable to do with the stage of water both above and below the dam here. During a period of 24 hours the headwaters above the dam rose one foot and three inches. This is accounted for by the warm weather which thawed the ice and snow and opened many heavy feeders into the main stream.

This noon, the stage was falling slowly and promises to continue to fall as long as the cold weather continues. The high stage of the water the last few days has had some effect on the heavy ice fields east of the dam. Much of the heavy ice just above the dam has been worn away by the torrents of muddy water that brought the stage of water up 15 inches.

Wilson Remits Jail Sentence of Jelke

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, March 5.—President Wilson has remitted the jail sentence imposed on John F. Jelke of Chicago, who was sentenced to serve 60 days and pay a fine of $10,000 for violation of the oleomargarine law. Jelke paid to the government a tax of $238,000, which was said to be of "doubtful collectability" and in view of his willingness to satisfy the law's demands President Wilson declined not to enforce the imprisonment sentence. Jelke also paid the fine and costs amounting to $40,000.

UNIFORM MILK NEED OF DAIRYMEN TO GET HIGHEST MARKET PRICE

Members of Lee Co. Testing Assn. No. 2 Get Information.

The meeting of the Lee County Cow Testing association No. 2 held at the rooms of the Lee County Farm Bureau Friday was a meeting of much value to the goodly number of members who attended.

Harold McCleary, of Dixon, was elected to fill a vacancy on the board of directors. After reading of reports and other regular business, the president called on J. J. Cole of the Ambboy Milk Products Co., who made a very interesting and instructive talk.

Mr. Cole mentioned the natural discouragements caused by a decrease in the price of milk, which he said was due to the releasing of large stocks of milk accumulated for war purposes, but held out a prospect for an improvement in these conditions since people in foreign countries are again able to purchase. The eventual prosperity of dairy districts is assured from the fact that only 3 or 4 states can be depended upon to furnish milk for export trade.

Urges Better Milk.

He urged the dairymen to supply a better quality of milk and made a comparison between the price of Denmark and Holland butter, and that produced in this country, the difference being due to the fact that those countries furnish a uniform product, whereas it is impossible to secure a carload of American butter uniform in grade and flavor. Every producer should have a sanitary milk house and see to it that every utensil employed in the production of milk is absolutely clean. When a poor quality of milk is accepted by a factory, it results in a bad lot of canned milk which must be sold at a reduction in price, if at all, and in the end all the farmers suffer on this account. Absolute cleanliness and even temperature are two essentials that must not be overlooked. American products will bring as high prices as those of Denmark just as soon as our quality is equal to theirs.

Answers Objections.

Answering some of the objections to the Cow Testing association, Mr. Cole stated that while the members were probably spending more money for feed and care of their cows than the average farmer, still their net profits are proportionately greater than the profits of man who neglects his dairy herd. He is a strong advocate of pure bred sires. Beginners should start with good foundation stock. He placed considerable emphasis on publicity, recommending that every farmer using a pure bred sire or having a pure bred herd, should place a sign on or near his buildings so that the passer-by may take notice of the fact. He illustrated the importance of publicity work by the growth of the Guernsey interests in Waukesha County, Wis. It has been only a few years since four men started in a small way and now there are more Guernseys in Waukesha county than on the island of Guernsey from whence came their original stock. The increase in the price of land in that county is one of the by-products of the business, but a very large item. An incentive for increased interest in dairying is the fact that milk is the only item produced on the farm for which the farmer has had a chance to fix the selling price. Beef, pork, grain and poultry are sold at the purchaser's figure, but dairymen have been able to have something to say about the price received for their milk. Mr. Cole's excellent talk was followed by a discussion of feeds, led by Wm. Finch, in which all participated, and it was the sentiment of those present that the great benefit may be derived from an interchange of experiences in milk, feeds, and the care of stock at future meetings.

The president appointed on the program committee, Wm. Finch, C. C. Buckaloo and D. E. Warren, who will arrange for interesting programs to be held from month to month.

Two new members have begun testing this month making a total of 26 members.

Tester R. E. Sherman states that he can still take care of one or two more herds and the association invites any dairymen in the vicinity of Ambboy or Dixon to take advantage of this opportunity.

The testimony of the members who entered into the discussion at this meeting regarding the benefits they have derived from the testing is proof of the value to dairymen of such an association as this and is a guarantee of its future success.

The next meeting will be held March 26, at 1:30 p. m., at the supervisor's room at Dixon unless otherwise announced.

COLD WAVE ON WAY EASTWARD

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill., March 5.—The cold wave which yesterday swept into the middle west today spread eastward and southward, but left behind the gales and driving snows that characterized its initial swoop from the mountains states.

Weather forecasts indicated the Central Western and Rocky Mountain states would have some relief from zero temperatures tomorrow with fair weather but freezing temperatures reaching as far south as Mississippi, and snow and rains in the upper Ohio valley and the Lake regions.

The storm struck Chicago six hours ahead of the time forecast by the weather bureau. Surface and elevated car service suffered serious interruptions.

Kansas City, St. Louis, Omaha, Des Moines and St. Paul reported the storm and crippled wire communications and impeded street car service.

MUCH "ANTI-BRITISH" FEELING IN AMERICA; SIR HORACE PLUNKETT

Says British Aims in War and Peace Are Hypocrisies.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Dublin, March 4.—Sharp criticism of the new Irish home rule bill was expressed by Sir Horace Plunkett, chairman of the Dublin convention, at a "Welcome Home" dinner, given in his honor here tonight by the Irish dominion league. He has just returned from the United States and gave his impressions of the American attitude toward Ireland.

"Long before the war broke out," he said, "I was convinced the peace of the world depended on mutual understanding between the British commonwealth of free nations—a term I prefer to the British Empire—and the great republic of the west. How far Germany timed Armageddon with an eye on Ulster let historians say. But it is a matter of personal knowledge that from 1911 the Prussian government was organizing a German-Irish Alliance in American politics with a view of the coming attack upon the world's freedom."

"I have not the least doubt that supposing the Irish trouble had nothing to do with the beginning of the war, it was an important factor in delaying America's decisive participation in the struggle. The same cause was due a great deal of political embarrassment to the war administration in Washington."

Irish Loyal to United States.

"Only the splendid loyalty to America of Irish-Americans counteracted the deep resentment caused by contrasts all too easily drawn between the treatment of the northeast corner and the rest of our country in conflict with the British government."

"Notwithstanding governmental control of news which was unprecedented in the history of the British people Ireland has become increasingly during the last decade the final proof to every enemy of England in America that British aims in war and peace are mere hypocrisies, where they profess to have any regard whatsoever for the liberty of small nationalities."

"The British people, the British parliament and all the British government know this. Now and again some prominent politician wins cheers by telling America to mind her own business and talking about her negro question. If we had as many negroes in this country as the Americans have Irish in theirs and if these colored people possessed the franchise here, we should be no more silent about that problem than the Americans are about Ireland. I agree that it is undesirable for any alien legislative body or official representatives of an alien government to indulge in official utterances or actions of such nature, but what these people or bodies may say or do is of small importance compared with what the people in the mass think."

Anti-British Feeling

"In America I found more bitter anti-English sentiment than in all my forty years of observation. It was tangled up with the Irish trouble and was generally expressed in what I may call Irish terms. Americans do not bother themselves with details. They want Ireland to have as large a measure of self-government as is consistent with the safety of the British empire. They wish to give the minority, particularly Ulster, ample security from any possible oppression by the majority of the Irish people who differ from Ulster in economic outlook."

"In my judgment America does not want Ireland to be an independent republic but until the British government ceases to break its promises to Ireland the sentiment of America will be that the Irish people are justified in asking anything they like."

Sir Horace criticized the home rule bill because it gave Ulster a minority of not more than one-fifth of the Irish people a "virtual mandatory over Ireland—a mandatory without responsibility."

"If the southern parliament took the trouble to be born," he concluded, "it would probably christen itself a republic and be immediately carried out by its indignant nurse. Ireland would then present, as a monument to British statesmanship the spectacle of martial law over the greater part of a country that demands home rule, and home rule in the northeast corner, which never asked for it."

GAMES TODAY. Afternoon.

DeKalb vs. Dixon.
Mt. Carroll vs. Mt. Morris.
Freeport vs. Sycamore or Polo.
Evening.
Orangeville vs. Sterling.
Rockford vs. Warren.
Harlem vs. Savanna.

Rockford, March 5.—Coach Vazina of the Dixon high school sent his fast basketball team onto the floor of the Armory here at 3 o'clock this afternoon for its first game in the Northwestern Illinois high school basketball tournament, which series of games will determine the team to represent the district in the state championship matches to be held later in the season.

The Dixon boys, accompanied by their coach and assistant, Prof. Rho Bates, arrived in Rockford last night, and saw DeKalb and Rock Falls battle in the first game of the tournament. That game was of unusual interest to the Dixon contenders, for on it depended their opponents for the first game this afternoon. Incidentally the boys from Lee county got a general idea of the "lay" of the big gym here although not as much knowledge of the floor as DeKalb, which will have the advantage of one game.

Jinx on Rock Falls.

There was something radically wrong with the DeKalb team last evening. The team won, of course, but only by the skin of their teeth. Teenagers can well be credited for victory, be made ten of their sixteen points and played well on the defensive. The final score was 16 to 14, Rock Falls playing a hard game but losing when stalling on their part in the last half cut down their chances of scoring. There was also a jinx on the Rock Falls team. Two free throws by Hoisinger, Rock Falls center, in the first quarter were not counted. He made one free throw when Referee Tapp's back was turned after time was taken out and in trying to make it over failed. Another time he overstepped the line and the free throw was thrown out.

Mt. Carroll a Surprise.

The Mt. Carroll team proved a surprise in its victory over Peatonica last night, winning 35 to 20; and at that the Carroll county boys won with substitutes in the game after the first few minutes of play, during which they took a commanding lead.

Won in Last Second.

Mt. Morris won from Morrison in the last game last night when in the last second of play Rock smashed through two guards, lost the ball, recovered it and hurriedly sent it upward. Downward it fell through the net as several hundred fans rose and thundered their applause. The score was 21 to 20.

Freeport Won Easily.

In the first game this morning Freeport easily won from Galena, 43 to 13.

Chicago, March 5.—Although fresh advances took place today in the value of corn, profit taking by holders led soon to a reaction. The bullish influence was the strength in sterling exchange and the lightness of receipts. With May delivery up 1/4¢ a bushel, however, as compared with the lowest price reached last week, the incentive for longs to realize gains could hardly be neglected. Opening quotations which ranged from the same as yesterday's close to 1/4¢ higher, with May 1 1/4 to 1 1/4 and July 1 1/4 to 1 1/4, were followed by a moderate general setback.

Oats were governed chiefly by the changes in corn. After opening 1/4¢ off to 1/4¢ advance, including July at 75¢ to 77¢, the market underwent declines all around. Provisions reflected the course of grain. Higher quotations on hogs had but little apparent effect.

That Well-Dressed Look

Wooltex has designed a simple straight line jacket to a charming suit.

The pockets have a treatment that is new and enhance the extended hip flare, also aided by the all around belt. The Tuxedo revers are especially youthful. The skirt has the same pocket treatment, otherwise falls simply straight. Well worth the attention of most figures and following the dictates of fashion.

Price $79.00

"Pinkhurst." Its of French blue Angora Polo. Comes tan, also this little Sport Coat. The contrasting Angora Tuxedo facing conceals two small pockets and those sharp little points over the hips are extremely smart. Priced $39.50

WOOLTEx Tailor-Mades

With a dollar bill acting for all the world like fifty cents, buying a Suit these days is somewhat like choosing a husband. It requires a bit of thought. It's such a simple matter to get a good looking Suit—you can try one on any day and see yourself reflected trim and smart. But it's just as it is with a shoe, you don't begin to know it until you've worn it two weeks or a month. That's the time you learn whether the lines were "tailored in" or "pressed in," whether the snug shoulder is going to hold the boyish lines or the collar lie flat to your neck. About that time the Wooltex Tailor-made begins to prove itself a Thoroughbred Sun and rain have done their worst, but your "Well Dressed Look" never leaves you.

Other Coats in stock of all wool materials and exemplifying the demands of the present mode.

Priced at $19.50, $23.50, $25.00 to $95.00

Phidian Art Club Has Good Exhibit

Although the time given the Phidian Art club to exhibit the collection of pictures of some present day Chicago artists is very limited, as the collection must be on its way back to the city Saturday afternoon, many have pictures are hung on the second floor, and found them most enjoyable.

In the collection landscapes predominate and there are some very good ones. There are, however, three
and "The Morning Glory," both by Joseph Pierre Birrey and "The Zuni Indian," a very pleasing study by Irvin Myers.

Perhaps the best known artists are Pauline Palmer, who has a picture in the collection entitled, "Yolie," in which the lighting on the water is excellent, the affect of clear, calm water being presented most strikingly.
Oliver Denhart Grover, who has a beautiful little Italian scene, "On Lake
Garda," Lucie Hartrath, whose "Red Oaks" might be taken from Rock River Valley.

Miss Hartrath is a teacher in the Chicago Art Institute as is also Ethel
L. Coe, who has a beautiful mountain scene, with an orange grove in the foreground, entitled, "Ping Moyer," a scene from Majorca, the Balearic Islands.

The artist who did "Connecticut Valley," a sunny landscape, is a native of Byron, Ill., Wilson H. Irvine.
"North State Bridge, Chicago," is realistically treated by Edgar Cameron, who is also the creator of a second order bridge scene, "Napier Bridge."

A pleasing scene with a most remarkable Corot-like atmosphere is
"Lanes in Picardy," the work of Edna Vognild, whose "Midnight Sun in Normandy" is also exhibited.

"The Marshes" (Quebec) by John F.
Stacy, is beautiful in its coloring and vivid.

Among the other pictures are "The Willows," Anna P. Stacy, "Sunland Mountains," a characteristic California
scene, by Edgar Payne, "Ruskie Garden in Normandy," very quaint,
by Samuel James Kennedy, "Millet Field," by Mrs. Marie Cameron,
"Nutting Time," with a soft, autumn
atmosphere, by Charles Schroeder,
"Grand Canal in Venice," quite distinctive, by Jessie Benton Evans, and
"Sunset on the Ocean," by Charles E.
Hallberg.

GIVEN FAREWELL PARTY—

Mrs. James McGrail and Mrs. M. C.
Forrester entertained at the home of Mrs. McGrail on Thursday evening with a farewell party in honor of Mrs.
Henry DeMoss, who is soon to leave for her new home in Clinton. The guests numbered twenty-five and included from out-of-town Mrs. Charles Hess of Rochelle, Mrs. R. Booth, of Dubuque, Ia., and Mrs. L. Grabner, of Idaho. The house was tastefully decorated in white and yellow and the centerpiece of the table, from which a four-course supper was served, was a bouquet of yellow daffodils. Victrola music was enjoyed after the supper.
A cut glass dresser set and Rebekah pin were presented Mrs. DeMoss by the company. Mrs. DeMoss' removal from Dixon is greatly regretted by the many friends she has made since living here.

W. R. C. MEETING—
The Woman's Relief Corps will hold a meeting Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in G. A. R. hall. Election of vacancy caused by the death of Sister Nancy Prescott. A great deal of tendance of all members.

Iron rust has a most astonishing way of appearing on garments. Sometimes a pin will be a bit rusty and leave two little brown spots in a most conspicuous place.

When this happens try lemon juice
and salt.

Wet the spot with a drop of lemon juice, add salt and put on more lemon juice. Lay in the sun and when the salt is dry the rust spot will be gone.
If the sun refuses to put in an appearance for the day, hold the stain
with its saturated solution of lemon juice and salt over steam. The rust will be removed.

Menu for Tomorrow.
BREAKFAST—Baked apple scrambled eggs, toast, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Macaroni salad,
brown bread and butter, preserves,
tea.

DINNER—Tomato soup, broiled
white fish, French fried potatoes, baked celery, head lettuce salad, queen of puddings, coffee.

My Own Recipes.
As spring draws nearer many vegetables begin to be more plentiful and consequently fall off in price. Head lettuce is usually the first to drop a few cents per pound. There's no salad more delicious than crisp and tender lettuce. Whether one chooses the old-fashioned Boston head or the rather modern iceberg, the salad gives piquancy to the whole meal and always goes with everything else.

MACARONI SALAD.
1½ cups cooked macaroni.
½ cup salmon.
½ cup diced celery.
1 green pepper.
1 onion.
3 tablespoons French dressing.
Mayonnaise dressing.

Use prepared cut macaroni or break the stick into one-half-inch pieces to cook. Mix macaroni, celery, chopped pepper and minced onion
and let stand in the French dressing for 30 minutes. Add salmon, arrange on lettuce, add mayonnaise and serve.

BAKED CELERY.
2 cups diced celery.
1 cup white sauce.
2 tablespoons grated cheese.
½ cup dried bread crumbs.
Paprika.

Cook celery until tender in boiling salted water. Drain. In a buttered baking dish put a layer of bread crumbs. Melt grated cheese in white sauce and add celery. Pour mixture in baking dish, add paprika and a layer of bread crumbs. Bake in a hot oven for 20 minutes.

QUEEN OF PUDDINGS.
1 cup milk.
1 tablespoon butter.
1 cup bread crumbs (soft part of loaf).
2 eggs.
4 tablespoons sugar.
Grated rind 1 lemon.
3 tablespoons strawberry jam.

oven till set. Remove from oven, spread with jam and cover with the whites of the eggs beaten till stiff and dry with 2 tablespoons of sugar. Return to the oven and brown slightly on top.

Harris said, "Fifty years ago there were only some fifty thousand Jews
in America, twenty-five years ago there were two hundred and fifty thousand Jews in the United States.
Today there are in America more than three million Jews, and of these one and a half million are in New York City alone. The average Gentile has a very wrong impression of the Jew.
The presumption seems to be that the Jews of America are illiterate, uncultured,
and for the most part, junk
merchants and dealers in second-hand clothing. Hardly anything could be farther from the true condition. Many Jews have education, culture and high position, and it is worthy of notice that the majority of the student body of the College of the City of New York, as well as Columbia University, are Jews. If you walk up and down Broadway and look at the signs you might easily imagine yourself in Jerusalem, and all over the country in the various professions and lines of business, you will find that the Jew
is not far from the top."

"Are there any undesirable traits among my people, the Jews? Of course, and in proportion there are perhaps as many as in any other living race. No one need think that because God has made of the Jews a chosen race, that He has done it because of the goodness of the Jew. The Jewish race was brought into existence for God's glory, and in order that they might be God's witness in the earth. And in order that God's ultimate purpose in them might be fulfilled, the race has been preserved until this hour. The Jew is God's barometer, and if you would understand what God is doing in the world, watch
His movements among the Jews. God has a splendid future in store for His chosen people, and in order that they should not go the way of the other ancient races and be swallowed up,

there was need of superior endowment."

The closing lecture of the Conference as it will be given tonight, "Some

as being very valuable as it gives a brief but attractive review of the course of Conference lectures. Rev.

OUT OF THE WORLD

Seven miles above the earth's surface!
Farther from mankind than any other human being ever soared!

Indeed, and truly, Major R. W. Schoeder, army aviator, left the world behind him—
and came back to tell the tale. Nothing more remarkable, or thrilling, or death-daring,
ever has been done by aviators.

Far above the blue sky, into the darkness of the higher sky's constant blackness, this intrepid sky explorer soared. He found air so thin he could not have lived had he not brought his earthly store with him; so cold
his very eyeballs were frozen with winds blowing eternally in unheard of gales. He came back to tell an astonished world what exists up there on high, beyond the clouds, beyond what man pictures as sky, beyond
what man calls his world.

Countless numbers of human beings have pondered on a trip out of the world. They have wondered what would happen to them;
how they would feel; what sights they would
see. But only one in a billion had the courage to go and see for himself what there is beyond. That man knows better than any other how it feels to live out of the world.
And by the same token he stands first in the list of those who must believe this is a comfortable little old world after all. For no person who has been out of the world can exactly appreciate the light and heat and air
in the world.

Some day some human will reach the farthest away spot out of this world which is possible of attainment and return to tell the story just as Schroeder has done. That may be 10 miles. It may be a dozen. It may be more. This dream MAY be realized—

All aboard! Interstellar limited leaves the world for the Moon, Mars, Venus and way stations! All aboard!

MISCHIEF-MAKERS

It was hoped after the recent tragic war that no stone would be put in the path of a firmer and closer and friendlier relation between the two great democracies, Great Britain and the United States. But apparently that hope was ill-founded.

There are miscreants both here and in England whose object is to renew the old-time bitterness, suspicions and jealousies between Americans and Englishmen.

In this country there is a constant appeal to the racial prejudices of men in whose veins there is no English blood.

In England there is a constant appeal to the prejudices of those Britons who are sorely feeling the pinch of high prices, the effort being to make them believe their trouble is due to the dollar-chasing Yankee.

A certain sort of newspaper is chiefly responsible for this in both countries. And to what end? What useful service can be performed by once more estranging the two countries? How would the world benefit?
The questions answer themselves.

But carry the things to its unthinkable conclusion. Suppose England and America were driven to blows. Do you know what would happen? England would fight to the last Briton. America would fight until the last Yank dropped in his tracks. The end would find both great democracies impoverished in wealth, in man power, in everything that makes a nation great.

Any man who seeks to estrange America
and Great Britain is rendering a sorry service to civilization. He is paving the way to the shedding of untold blood and tears. He is destroying the world's best hope of peace and fair-dealing among nations. He is making mischief far beyond even his own ugly and ignoble dreams.

DOLLARS FOR CHINA

American financiers have started for China
to investigate the industrial needs of the Chinese people. America is the first nation to come to China's practical help in this matter since the war. The project may exert a profound influence upon the future development of the Far East. It means China's commercial expansion may become independent of Japan's direction.

Americans have none but the best wishes for Japan's own industrial development. But, it doesn't accord with American principles to make no protest against the Japanese government's domination of another country's commerce. Japan wants to control Chinese industrial life so that progressive development shall be limited. Otherwise, the Japanese believe the hold of those in possession
will be endangered.

In reality, Japan cannot suffer from China's prosperity. The more prosperous China is, the more prosperous Japan will be.
But naive economic ideas prevail in many places beside Japan about the danger of progress. If Japan continues to control China's industrial existence, the result will be as bad for the Japanese as for the Chinese.

Japan's own best interests require the stimulation of Chinese competition. Competition hurts at first, but it is the best known agent for making individuals and nations improve their methods of production. The Far East needs a new Japan founded upon the prosperity of its working classes. Japan's industrial civilization will become modernized
the quicker with the American influences
setting the pace in China.

HUSBAND'S MORALS

Glen Campbell is a little town in Pennsylvania. Few perhaps have heard of it. But 66 of its leading women propose to "put it on the map." For they have formed a secret society there, the purpose of which is to "know men morally," and the scope of the lodge includes husbands and husbands intended.

That sounds like something new. It behooves men in that community to walk with some circumspection, for the organization
proposes to clean up the morals of its neighborhood. Especial attention is to be given to the morals of husbands. There's to be a moral credit bureau kept, and any wife can go there and get a confidential report and a rating on her husband. Brides-to-be may also secure information there that may interest them.

One member says there should be a similar society in every community. She declares that if women "attempted to get away with what the average man does" the divorce calendar would be as crowded as the old-time barroom.

At all events, the idea is interesting. And all of the good men of Glen Campbell may be depended upon as favoring the plan.

STILL WAITING

The people of the United States are still waiting for Attorney General Palmer to bring down the cost of living, as he promised to do six months ago. While the attorney general and his assistant, Mr. Figg, go merrily on chasing the profiteers, the cost of living keeps right on chasing the pay envelope.

According to reports received by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics
from retail dealers in 50 cities, the average family expenditure for food was 2 per cent higher on Jan. 15 than on Dec. 15. The cost in December was 2.6 per cent higher than it had been in any previous month. The figures show an increase of 9 per cent since January 1919, and an increase of 104 per cent since January, 1913.

CHEER UP

The next time you go to the bakers, the butchers, and the candlestick makers, and discover that the cost of living—most per-versely—has not gone down a single penny, stop a minute, and reflect upon Germany's situation.

The cost of foodstuffs continues to rise in Berlin. Milk and sugar cost today four times what they did before the war; bread costs five times as much; and potatoes, butter and oleomargarine cost nine times as much. Other items of food which are not controlled by the government food-card system have advanced even more. Eggs, for example, cost 30 times as much as six years ago.

Next time you buy a dozen eggs at the corner grocery, think how much worse off
you'd be if you had to buy 'em in Berlin—
and cheer up.

America is not wholly dependent on Russia for our supply of flax and Bolsheviks.
Some of both is grown here.

You can say one thing about this era of everlasting peace. It is doing much to encourage preparedness.

COLOR-BLINDNESS

Investigations conducted by the United States Public Health Service
show that some form of color-blindness occurs in 8.6 per cent of men and 2.2 per cent of women in every-day life among healthy individuals in America.

Color-blindness of a degree dangerous in occupations, requiring recognition of colored signal lights, occurs in 3.1 per cent of the men and 0.7 per cent of the women.

Among refractive conditions of the eye, color-blindness occurs least frequently in eyes apparently without demonstrate refractive error; it occurs most frequently in eyes showing mixed astigmatism.

Color-blindness is best detected by testing with colored lights of known spectral composition. This may be done satisfactorily and expeditiously with the Eldridge green lantern after gaining an understanding of the principles of the test employed.

The Jennings test results in the rejection of a large percentage of subjects who should be accepted, especially among the more intelligent, but it possesses certain practical features which render it superior to other tests in certain lines of examination where great accuracy and classification of color defects are not essential. It should not be used for testing sailors or trainmen.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

THE HONEY BEAR
The next thing the twins saw in Topsy-Turvy Land was a bear. "Woof, woof!" he growled when he saw the children. "Do come and help me fill my little tin bucket. I'm nearly starved to death!"

"Starved?" exclaimed Nick. "Why we just saw one of your dinners a minute ago, a sly old weasel chasing chickens."

"I don't care a tuppenny-bit for weasels," said the bear crossly, "nor for anything but honey. I'm hunting honey, I am, and it's mighty hard to get."

"I don't believe there are any bees in Topsy-Turvy Land," said Nancy. "At least we haven't seen any, but perhaps the Magical Mushroom can tell us." But before she could ask the Mushroom, the bear dropped his basket and held up his hands—paws, I mean—in horror. "No, no, no!" screamed the bear. Don't mention bees! If there's anything that can make a bear's life miserable, it's bees. I just came to this place to be rid of them."

"Excuse me!" said Nancy. "I thought you wanted honey."

"Honey! I do want honey, but I don't want bees. Can't you see, the difference? I'm trying to get the honey out of the flowers myself, but my tongue won't reach. What are those things on your feet?"

The twins looked down proudly at their Green Shoes. "Oh, those are the magical shoes the Fairy Queen sent us, so we can hunt our monkey that ran away," they explained. "They are taking us on our adventures. We can get big or little, and go anywhere we like."

"Anywhere you like!" Suddenly the bear had an idea. "I wonder," said the old fellow, "if your little Green Shoes would fit me." And he sat down on a big stone and stuck out his foot.

Whether they did or not you shall hear tomorrow.

vided by jealousies which hurt so much worse, sometimes, than the sting of death.

"It was terrible—my suspense there in the cave was awful, Bob darling," I said, pillowing his dear head upon my heart. "I expect that I, your wife, would see you complete the quickest you had undertaken."

"How—complete?" Bob asked in a tone of sincere wonder.

"I expected—that I would see you—from my dark corner—clasp Katherine Miller to your heart—and kiss her!" I murmured.

I was rather ashamed to make the confession—and awfully anxious, nevertheless, to hear what Bob would say. I was only in the first stage of a reconciliation with Bob—a stage which every jealous wife will recognize. I was told to believe in him—and yet I was driven to nag—nag him—to make him as unhappy as possible, as a fair payment that he must make for fling.

"Well, I didn't kiss her, did I?" Bob exclaimed triumphantly.

"No—you didn't—but for weeks past you would have done so gladly—if ever you had had an opportunity!" I went on excitedly.

"No! You're mistaken, my dear! Didn't I prove that, there in the bandit's hair?"

"Bob Lorimer, be honest!" I exclaimed. "You know as well as I do that for weeks and months you've been following an unholy pull in Katherine Miller's direction. You know that that pull brought you down into this awful country and landed you—and me—as prisoners—in this extremely unsafe old hacienda."

"You expect me to admit—all that?" asked my husband.

"I don't expect you to admit anything," I answered. "You'll never admit that I have had a single ground for suspicion! Evidence in a wife's hands—that is the only power a wife ever has to get at the truth about a man's disloyalty—transient—or the other kind!"

Bob looked at me admiringly.

"Jane, you've got some brains or you never would have found out that by applying your brains to me, my dear, do you find that I've a polygamous strain?"

"I—I do!" I struggled to get the hard words out. "That way—most men—I suppose—are—are all—all-like!" I sobbed.

Then I waited for Bob to reply—to deny what I said, but he was silent. Few men would have much to say to that charge, I suppose. He had to go on torturing myself while I tried to torture him.

"Dear!" I whispered. "I honestly think I could stand it if—if you were—to—to fall in love with another woman—in an ideal way!"

"What awful rot you're talking, Jane Lorimer!" My husband's voice rose in indignation and I had to put a warning finger on his lips. Neither Certeis nor one of his servants must be permitted to guess that Bob was shamming a sickness.

"But, I call it," he protested. "Absurd nonsense! As long as you're my wife, I couldn't give any other woman—an atom of 'ideal' love! Quite some-thing else, I assure you!"

My rejoinder was more hysteria.

"Cut the tears, darling! And cut that new idea about sacrificing yourself for a possible rival! Oh, I know—it's rather a fad—isn't it?—for an oldish wife to retire with her dignity and an income—when a husband over middle age tires of her and falls in love with a girl! It's a fall of this rotten age—and false—as the emotion the old duffer thinks he feels for the girl! Anyway, Jane, you're too young for the part! Here—kiss me again!"

"I will not kiss you while I feel like this! I am not too young to give you up to some genuine affection for a worthy woman! But this primitive elemental state—this love of physical beauty—like that of Katherine Miller—why didn't you expect it would get on my nerves? If you didn't, you took a mighty long chance!"

Q.—Are baking soda and vinegar good for gas in the stomach? I get terribly bloated after eating and am in much distress.

A.—The combination of baking soda and vinegar would seem to be a very poor one for the treatment of gas in the stomach. Sometimes this condition is largely due to lack of exercise of the abdominal muscles. Sometimes there is an undue relaxation of the abdominal wall. In still other instances there is organic trouble in the stomach or intestines. It is most un-wise to doctor yourself.

PAYS TO HAVE FAMILY WHEN TAXES ARE DUE

Head of Family Ex- empt from Taxation on $2,000 Income.

Washington, D. C., March 5. — If you are unmarried, you are allowed a personal exemption of $1,000. If you are married, or the "head of a family"—meaning that you have dependents—you are allowed a personal exemption of $2,000.

In addition, you may deduct $200 for each child or each person (other than a husband or wife) who is dependent upon and receiving his or her chief support from you, if such dependent person is under 18 years of age, or is incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective.

A married person not living with husband or wife is allowed a personal exemption of $1,000. A husband and wife living together are entitled to but one personal exemption of $2,000, and if both make returns, either may be split between them.

YOU MUST FILE YOUR RETURN NOT LATER THAN MARCH 15!

The return must include all sums received as income during the calendar year 1919, unless in your business you have an annual accounting period—a "fiscal year"—as it called, which ends in some other month than December, 1919. In that case, you may make return for your fiscal year, but it must "fit in" with the return you made last year. You can't leave "blank periods" unaccounted for.

You may make further deductions from personal income as follows:

Interest paid on personal indebtedness as distinguished from business indebtedness.

Losses not connected with your trade, business or profession, and not compensated for by insurance or otherwise, but you must explain what these losses were and how they happened.

Contributions for religious, charitable, scientific or educational purposes, and for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals.

Bad debts arising out of loans, provided you never expect to get the amount back. (If you ever do, you will have to report it as income in the year you collect it).

Deduct Luxury Taxes.

If you have kept account of the taxes you have paid on "luxuries" during 1919, you can save yourself money in paying your income tax now. The luxury taxes are called taxes on automobiles, musical instruments, sporting goods, chewing gum, candy and on the finer kinds of clothes, furniture, leather goods and so on.

YOU CAN'T DEDUCT THESE TAXES FROM YOUR INCOME TAX, but you CAN deduct the amounts so paid during 1919 from the amount of INCOME ON WHICH YOU PAY. If you bought a $300 piano and paid in addition $15 tax, then you have the right to deduct this amount from the amount of INCOME you report March 15th. But you must be able to furnish evidence satisfactory to the internal revenue collector showing the amounts actually paid as taxes by

URIC ACID IN MEAT BRINGS RHEUMATISM

Says a little Salts in water may save you from dread attack.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

HER CHERRY TREE CAME IN HANDY

Oklahoma City, March 5.—"I always did think George Washington did wrong in cutting down that cherry tree," says Mrs. May Meade, 65, of Capitol Hill. "So I let the one in the yard grow." The tree served as a fire escape when a blaze cut her off from the stairway, and she climbed down from the second-story window.

Consolidate School Districts in Rollo

By a vote of 212 to 12 the taxpayers of the territory north of Rollo, DeKalb county, voted in favor of a consolidation of the school districts of nearly the entire township of Shabbona. The consolidation leaves the rural schools as they are and creates a new community high school board, empowered to levy a high school tax over the new large district, to care for high school matters only. Shabbona has just completed a $50,000 school building, the structure being of brick and cement, one story high, with electrically forced ventilation system, unilateral lighting system with added skylights in each school room, and with auditorium and stage; all heated with hot air. Toilets with shower baths are provided, making it one of the most modern and most complete school buildings of its size and kind in northern Illinois.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED--AND EARNED

A DECISION.
CHAPTER 77.

I let Robert sleep as long as I dared, then wakened him.

"Get up, lazy bones, or you will not be ready for breakfast," I called. My anger had all evaporated, only anxiety held place in my mind. I would ignore last night until he was his own dear self once more; then I would talk with him about things—how I felt toward pool rooms and drinking.

"All right," By his tone I knew he had been awake, that I had been mistaken when I supposed him asleep.

As always when he drank, he ate nothing, but drank his coffee.

"How was Marion?" I asked.

"Just the same as always."

"What did she want, or can't I know?" I asked, trying to make a joke of my question, but longing for an answer.

"She wanted to see me."

"Oh!" I could not help the exclamation. I had thought he would give some reason for her message even though he did not explain fully.

"Yes, oh! Some people yet have faith in me."

"Why, Robert, I have faith in you. I always have and I love you!" He could not know how he was hurting me.

"A pile you do! You are sorry for me, sorry I am incompetent, and so you put up with me just as you would with an incompetent child. But you don't believe in me any more, and you know it!"

I tried to convince him he was mistaken, but he had read my state of mind so clearly that I could not talk convincingly.

"So you think Marion has more faith in you than I have?" I finally remarked.

"I don't think, I know! Marion never has lost her faith in me, in my business ability, even though Burch is my limit. You see she doesn't know me as well as you do, and thinks everyone but me to blame."

"Me included, I suppose."

"I never discuss you with anyone," he replied with a touch of dignity.

"Thank you for that, Robert. I don't think I could bear to know you talked of me with another woman."

After he left and as I dressed for the shop I kept wondering about his intimacy with Marion Hovey. Did she play the sweetly sympathetic companion to the misunderstood husband? She seemed hardly clever enough for that.

"Little plain household drudge!" I said aloud, "Flatters a man through his stomach."

But in spite of my scorn, I was more anxious, more troubled, than ever I had been before. Did Robert take his worries to her? Had he told her of the reason he would not eat in the boarding house? Did she know that he did not earn enough to pay for my food as well as his own, so insisted upon eating where and what he pleased without consulting me? It was unbearable that she should know all these things so intimately our own. Suddenly I came to a decision. I would go and see Marion Hovey at the first opportunity. I would get her to talk of Robert. I would find out how much she knew, what she was to him. It might be some time before I could find an evening when Robert would be out—and not with her. But I would make an opportunity, if I took my lunch hour. Yes, that was what I would do! I would beg her to give me luncheon, tell her Robert had bragged of her food, etc.

I felt better after I decided to see Marion, and kept my mind on my work through the day. I was to meet Robert at a restaurant not far from the shop, and I asked Mary Ryan to join us at dinner.

"Robert isn't quite himself these days, Mary. You will do him good."

"Now what has he been up to?"

"Pool rooms, for one thing."

"The dickens he has! Gerry, you mustn't let him get the habit. Does he play for money?"

"Yes, and wins, so he says?"

"Worse and more of it! If he would lose his boots it would be the best thing could happen. If he wins, he's lost."

Mary had a philosophy for everything in life.

Don't worry about the high price of jams, jellies and preserves. Serve Karo, the Great American Sweet. Buy it by the dozen cans. An important message. Read it!

AMONG the twenty odd million American Homes there is probably not a single one where Karo is not served in some manner—for breakfast, for dinner or for supper.

During these days of high prices, Karo has become another word for economy. Thousands of thoughtful housewives have learned that Blue Label Karo is not only a delicious spread for pancakes, but answers every purpose where a sweet is needed.

Instead of paying the present high prices for jams, jellies and preserves—serve Blue Label Karo on sliced bread, toast, pancakes or waffles.

Do as the wise cooks are now doing: Use Karo to stew dried fruit, prunes; use it for candied sweet potatoes, brown bread, muffins, coffee cake and puddings.

Karo Home-made Candy is the best for children. It is wholesome, easy to make, costs much less than store candy.

Mothers give children Blue Label Karo and sliced bread because it satisfies Nature's craving for sweets and takes the place of candy.

IMPORTANT

There never was such a demand for Blue Label Karo as today. Housewives everywhere are buying it by the dozen cans. Ask your grocer the price per dozen. For economy's sake buy it this way.

Hoosier's uncluttered work space

Every housewife knows and appreciates the value of a broad work space, unobstructed, uncluttered. For here it is that nearly all of her work is done. Hoosier's scientific arrangement has eliminated partitions and all else that hinders.

HOOSIER preference has not been gained through one outstanding feature, or even a dozen patented conveniences. Yet it is worthy of note that the Hoosier contains more time and labor saving ideas than any other. It is the complete cabinet in every detail.

Hoosier is saving thousands of miles of kitchen steps each day—and as many hours of toil. For nearly two million housewives have turned drudgery into pleasurable accomplishment with the Hoosier.

No woman can EXPECT all possible leisure without a Hoosier. She cannot EXPECT to save as much time and strength without it. Will you gain these benefits now, without further wasteful delay? Join the efficient class. Convenient terms make it easy for you.

Gorky Disappointed in Revolt Results

Stockholm, March 4.—Bitter disappointment with Bolshevism is expressed in an article recently published by Maxim Gorky, the Russian radical, according to a Helsinki dispatch to the Tidnings of this city. The revolution has not been followed by any spiritual revival, the article is said to declare, "and has proved itself unable to make men more honest. Men in power now are just as brutal as those in authority under the imperial regime and send as many men to prison. Bolshevism leaders driven by ambition are performing experiments upon living people, especially the working classes."

Yellow Mustard for Sore Throat, Tonsilitis

Old fashioned remedies are often the best. Yellow Mustard, in the form of plaster or poultice, has been used for generations for soreness, inflammation, congestions and swellings with most excellent results but—it blistered.
Heat eases pain and Begy's Mustardine made of pure yellow mustard, together with other pain relieving ingredients is just as hot, but quicker, cleaner, and more effective and cannot blister.
When your throat is sore, when you have pleurisy, bronchitis or a pain-shooting chest cold you can get speedy and lasting relief with this most effective preparation because heat eases pain. Every druggist has it—30 and 60 cents at druggists or by mail, S. C. Wells & Co., LeRoy, N. Y.

BILIOUSNESS

Caused by Acid-Stomach

It people who are bilious are treated according to local customs they seldom get very much better. Whatever relief is obtained is usually temporary. Trace biliousness to its source, in the stomach, and the cure is made that the patient will remain strong and healthy.

Doctors say that more than 70 non-organic diseases can be traced to an Acid-Stomach. Biliousness is one of them. Indigestion, heartburn, belching, sour stomach, flat and gas are other signs of acid-stomach. EATONIC, the marvelous modern stomach remedy, brings quick relief from these stomach troubles which lead to a long train of ailments that make life miserable if not corrected.

EATONIC

(FOR YOUR ACID-STOMACH)

Are You Sick and Discouraged?

Do you get up in the morning more tired than when you went to bed? Are you nervous, fagged out, irritable and easily exhausted?

These symptoms simply mean that you have not a sufficient supply of iron, oxygen and the natural cell-salts that your blood needs to keep your body strong, vigorous and healthy.

Every disease that afflicts the human body is due to the lack of one or more of the natural cell-salts in the blood. Pain, fever, headache, backache, nervousness, anaemia, dyspepsia, biliousness, chills, dizziness, congestion, constipation, etc., are but Nature's warning signals that the cells of some part of your body are starving for the lack of their natural food.

All diseases that are curable are cured in a natural way through the circulation of the blood which is carried by the blood vessels and transudes through the walls of the veins and capillaries into the surrounding tissues. When the blood contains the proper amount of cell-salts and red blood cells, the whole body glows with health and vitality—the eyes sparkle—sleep is refreshing—and you are free from aches and pains.

REOLO combines the cell-salts that the blood must have to nourish the body and keep it well—in a form easily assimilated by the blood.

REOLO absorbs the oxygen from the air in the lungs and carries it into the blood—rapidly increasing the number of red blood cells—and the amount of plasma in the blood—sending through the entire body a stream of rich, vitalized, health-giving blood that nourishes every cell of the nerves, tissues, brain and bone.

Each package of REOLO contains tablets enough for two weeks' treatment. In ordinary cases the treatment should be continued for six weeks to give the blood a rich supply of oxygen, plasma and the cell-salts solution that builds new cells. The course of six weeks' treatment costs but very little and will, in most cases, restore normal health and vitality.

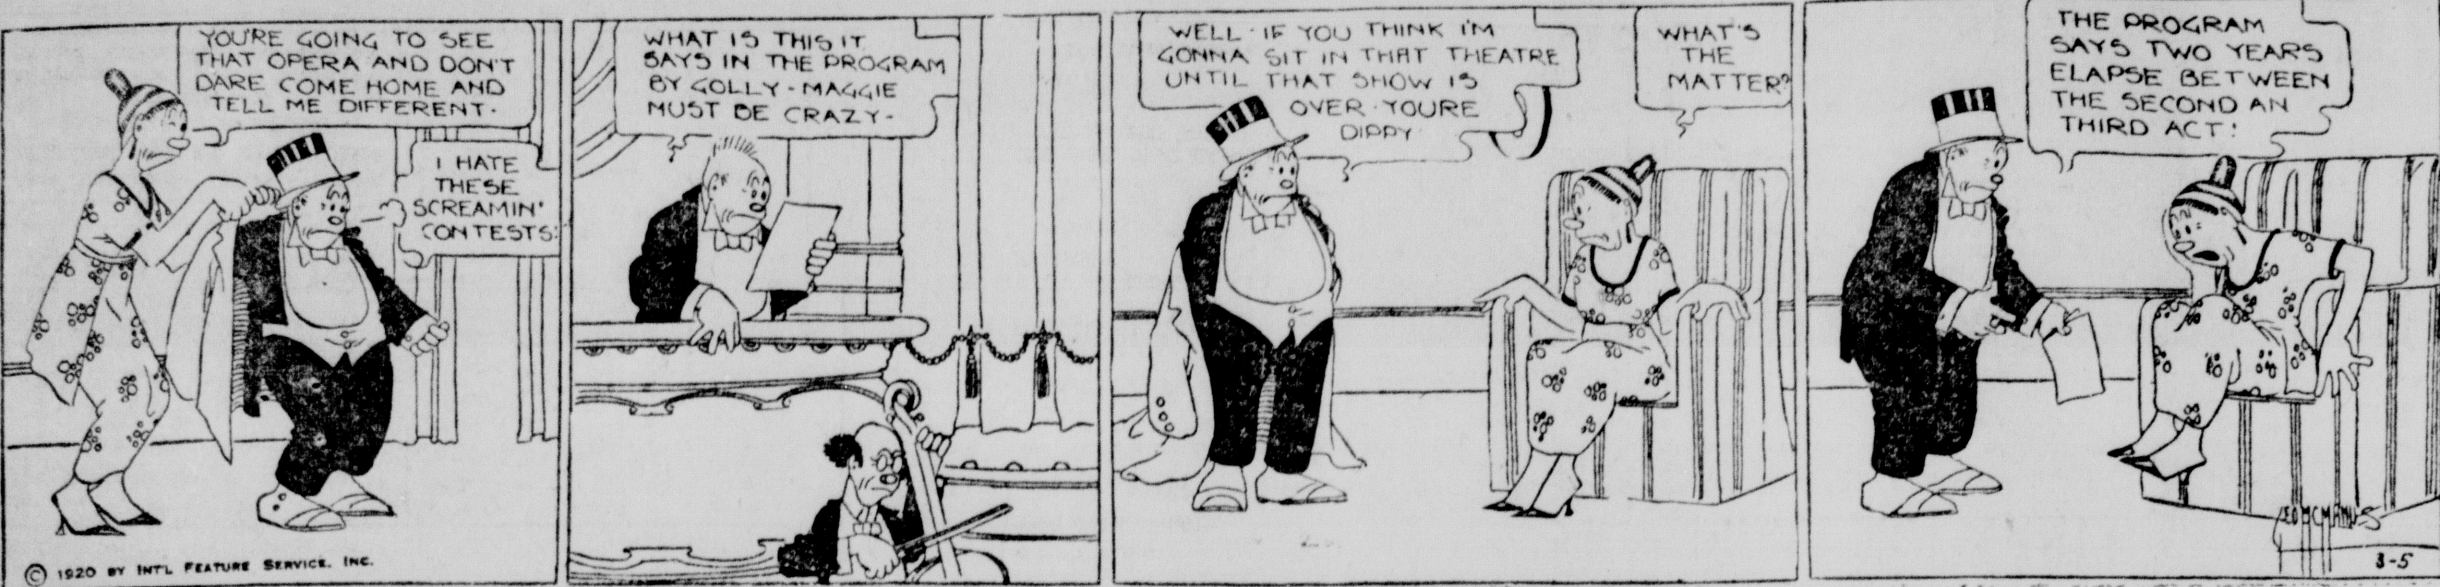

In chronic cases of long standing or in normal conditions due to neglect, excessive nerve strain, overwork or prolonged illness, it naturally requires a longer time for REOLO to reconstruct the diseased cells, tone up the heart and nervous system and make the blood rich in red blood cells and plasma, vitalized with oxygen, iron and the health-renewing cell-salts that restore normal health and vigor.

Start the REOLO Tonic Treatment today and you will be delighted with the steady improvement in your health. The large package contains 100 pleasant, tasteless tablets and only costs $1.

He feels that because of the situation resulting from the resignation of Secretary Lansing, the appointment of Assistant Secretary Phillips as minister to the Netherlands and the pending retirement of Acting Secretary Polk he should remain at his post.

Mr. Long indicated that if he should desire later to leave the department it would not be until after the Missouri primaries in August.

Says Farm Life Is Dying in Many Parts

Chicago, March 4.—Farm life in many parts of the country is dying out and until something is done to revive it people will continue to go to the city speakers told the farm Federation Bureau meeting here today.

"Rural churches and schools are deteriorating in many localities," Mrs. J. C. Ketchum of Hastings, Mich., declared. "As long as conditions remain as they are or continue to grow worse, the women will rebel and refuse to live on the farms."

"Another thing which must be done is to educate the city people to a realization of these conditions. Many of them feel very bitter toward the farmer and think that he is a profiteer."
